Introduction of NIS Director's Message

Welcome to the website of the National Intelligence Service!

We will remain steadfastly committed to safeguarding national security and promoting national interests to make the Republic of Korea a country where all its people can lead a contented life without concerns.

With the support of the public, we will faithfully fulfill our duties to act as a "fortress of the Republic of Korea" that shields the nation from hostile forces at home and abroad, protects the ROK citizens by responding to comprehensive threats and preserves national identity by safeguarding liberal democracy.

To this end, we will reinforce our early warning system by uncovering high value information instrumental in our effort to advance national interest and security, and actively counter emerging security threats such as terrorism, leakage of trade secret and cyber attack to ensure that the Republic of Korea enjoys long-standing peace and stability.

We will spare no effort to become a reliable intelligence agency that stands guard for the future of the Republic of Korea. For this purpose, we will exert ourselves to achieving our inherent mission, drawing upon intelligence capability advanced enough to live up to public expectation and a collective sense of devotion to the ROK citizens.

We ask for unflagging support and continued attention from the ROK citizens so that the NIS would be able to carry out the responsibility and duty to the fullest.

Thank you.
